Ada Colorina

Each Ada piece of Colorina's work tells an idyllic story in which humanity, natural realms and even the sky, clouds and stars. Stories are revealed in the clarity of her powerful imagination, portraying popular Latin American legends and cultural traditions immersed in lavish and rich atmospheres.

Her work portrays wealth of compositional elements expressed in a rich variety of color. Fiestas, bullfights, rodeos, religious rituals and scenes of everyday life are described with a humorous tone impregnated with the simplicity and natural joy of the artist.

The greatest virtues in her composition are the balanced and fair management of space augmented by an exuberant symphony of color. Here, there is no place for the accidental or fortuitous. Her sense of depth is deliberate and of preponderant significance.

The effect is achieved through a carefully prepared spatial arrangement of the characters and compositional elements, none of which appears as a focal point of the scenes.

A uniform light and sharpness in the completion of the images enhances the deep effect, suggesting the presence of a pristine and pure air ventilating through the scenes.
